

Our website contains cookies

Cookies, as you know, are fragments of information created by a server and stored on the hard disk of the computer or other devices (smartphones, tablets, netbooks, etc.) that are useful to improve the experience of browsing the website and provide a better service to the user. It stores your browsing data on the website and retransmits it to you the next time you access it, enabling you, for example, to return to the page you last visited.

Cookies can be permanently stored on your computer or device and have a variable duration (so-called persistent cookies), but they can also disappear when you close your browser or have a limited duration (so-called session cookies).

They can be installed by the Website you are visiting (so-called first party cookies) or be installed by other websites (so-called third party cookies).

Which cookies do we use?

Browsing and functionality cookies: We use first part session and persistent cookies on the Website to enable you to browse safely and efficiently, also in order to improve the service.

Analytical Cookies: We use Google Analytics platform cookies on the Website to collect information regarding how users use the Website (number of visitors, pages visited, time spent on the Website, etc.).

Profiling cookies: Third-party cookies are used on the Website to send advertising messages in line with the user's preferences.

Social Cookies: We use third-party cookies on the Website to enable users to interact with social networks (Facebook, Twitter, ...) and particularly to share content on the Website through those social networks.

We are committed to protecting the personal data of our users. We take appropriate technical and organizational measures to protect the confidentiality of the user's personal data.

We may from time to time make changes to this Policy to adapt it to future changes in the Website or in existing legislation. Whenever we make substantial changes to this Policy, we will provide the user with a clearly visible notice, depending on the circumstances, for example by displaying it on the website or by sending you an email.

Thank you for reading our cookies policy and, if you have any questions, please write to us at info@studiodagagency.com
